

TRAINING

Our members are moving forward, even during the pandemic. During the months of September and October we have had 16 members participating in programs at the University of Maryland Fire Rescue Institute. Several classes taught the finer points of rescue techniques. Another program provided students with the skills necessary to operate the complex pump on a fire engine. We would not be able to provide this important training to our members without the support of several local businesses. We would like to thank these local businesses for their support:

John Browns Auto Parts Inc. 19529 Old York Rd. in White Hall, MD 21161

Condon's Auto Parts, 1218 Martin Drive, Westminster, Maryland 2115

Lock's Garage, Inc., 17034 York Road, Hereford, MD 21120, 410-357-5000

And of course, our gratitude goes out to the Instructors and Staff at the University of Maryland Fire Rescue Institute and

Shrewsbury Volunteer Fire Company

. Thanks for allowing us this opportunity to increase our knowledge and provide us the skills to better serve our community.
